Council Proceedings.

Council met last Monday evening in pursuance to adjournment, all the members being present except Councilman Daigleish.

Some bills that were on the table were brought up, but owing to the committee not reporting on them they were laid over until the next regular meeting.

By motion an electric light was ordered to be placed in the north end of town, near Mr. Rife's property.

In compliance with a petition presented at the last meeting a cross-walk was ordered put across the road near Mr. Wasson's residence.

By motion a new cross-walk was ordered put in from the corner of M. A. Miller's property to the corner of C. H. Ralston's property; also one across Main street from C. W. Cobb's property to the Bead property.

R. S. Roberts was present and asked the council to pass an ordinance to license fish peddlers at the rate of $2.50 per week. The petition was referred to the committee.

By motion all city taxes were ordered to be declared delinquent on and after the 10th of November, and the street commissioner authorized to proceed to collect the same according to law.

A communication from the insurance union was read, stating that they had a man here looking over the town, and made several suggestions. The communication was laid on the table.

The Mayor suggested to the council the advisability of dividing the town into wards, and electing six councilmen instead of four, letting three go out each year.

The council then adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening, Oct. 31.

Joseph Summerville, a pioneer resident of Linn county, who emigrated to Oregon from Illinois in 1851, died at his home near Harrisburg on Monday evening, Oct. 23, 1893, at the advanced age of 73 years. He had been ill for several months. He was a man of excellent worth and was much esteemed by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his death.

From all points of the northern and eastern states great crowds of unemployed workmen are hastening to San Francisco, lured there by the announcement that workmen are wanted in connection with the mid-winter fair. Mayor Eliott said a few days ago, "The authorities of the northern and eastern states are using San Francisco as a dumping ground for idle men and all sorts of schemes are arranged to ship them out. San Francisco has more unemployed now than she can care for, and I hope the papers will correct the statement that the railroad people in Montana and elsewhere are circulating."

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this remedy is taken as soon as a cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it is the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other will cure a cold so quickly. For sale by M. A. Miller, Druggist.

We have heard of many kinds of tramps, but Lebanon had a new kind one day this week. It was a cat that rode out on the brake-beam in regular hob style.

E. E. Montague and family were in town this week, visiting old friends and relatives. Mr. Montague returned yesterday, but his family remained for a longer visit.

The latest Oregon Pacific rumors are that the Southern Pacific will make an effort to absorb the entire plant. A counter rumor has Jim Hill figuring to get his hands on the same property.

The world's congresses are over. The last session of the last congress was held to-day. There will be several evening addresses and lectures, but the regular congresses ceased with the real estate men.

It is now reported that there will be no compromise in congress—that silver is defeated, and that a vote will be taken on the repeal measure in a few days, which is sure to result in a victory for Wall street.

E. W. Enos, representing the Evening Telegram, was in Lebanon two days this week, in the interest of that paper. The Telegram is a good, live newspaper, democratic in politics, and we are glad to report that he obtained several subscriptions while here.

The Willamette Congregational Association is investigating certain charges of immoral conduct filed against Rev. C. L. Corwin, late pastor of the Salem church of that denomination, by members of his congregation. It is reported that some former citizens of Lebanon are connected with the scandal.

A fatal accident happened about two miles west of Philomath last Saturday, resulting in the death of David Garid. The team he was driving became unmanageable in some manner and ran away. The wagon capsized and the unfortunate driver was crushed under the load in such a terrible manner that he never regained consciousness. He was about 40 years of age and leaves a wife and four small children in destitute circumstances.

Ingenuity is rampant among the Oregon lawyers. A Salem man was acquitted of horse-stealing upon the theory advanced by his counsel that he was only stealing a ride, and now a Pendleton attorney suggests that an employe can't be convicted of larceny in a store if he took the money home in accordance with custom and never brought it back. Meanwhile the man who steals a loaf of bread "goes up" for three years.—Oregonian.
